 ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING (AGM!)

PNTMC's AGM is held on the last Thursday in the month of March. TRIP REPORTS

So ...you enjoyed your trips away in the hills over the Christmas New Year break. Well... how about sharing your trip with the rest of us in the form of a brief trip report. Where did you go? How was the weather? Any special hints or tips for trips in the area in the future.

THE ANGLO-ITALIAN INTERNATIONAL EXPEDITION TO DUNDAS RIDGE HUT :

2, 3, 4th Dec.

I've been on a couple of in complete Dundas Ridge Club trips over the years, being hailed and blown off on one occasion and generally miseried off on the other. Earlier this year a PNTMC group retreated off the ridge due to wind and rain and exited over Herepai. It was therefore with some apprehension that I waited for the Dundas Ridge weekend to arrive and didn't know whether to feel happy or sorry when no one had filled in the trip sheet left at the Club night. There had been no phone calls by midweek so the dilemma of having to go on my own or call it off seemed probable. Then Giorgio rang - he was in NZ for 6 months, had been up Toka the weekend before and was full of enthusiasm. Over the phone he didn't sound the sort of joker who wouldn't be put off by a bit of wind or rain or even a full blooded hurricane for that matter.

When we got to the dam it was windy in the forest and the tops were in cloud so we decided to sneak up on the Dundas Ridge via Ham's Creek and West Peak. The start of the track up West Peak was not obvious and we spent some time fossicking around in the boggy bits at the bottom, then we were off following the blazes. Hours later we arrived on top in thick cloud that was whizzing by at about 100kph.

When we got to the small tarns that are shown on the map to be above Dundas Ridge Hut we could not see any natural physical features to follow and were fortunate to find an arrow set out in stones on the ground. There seemed only one sensible reason for the arrow. We reached the hut after 10 hours of tramping. I was glad this was only a medium trip.

We both overslept on Sunday morning and did not get away until 0915 hours. We were to regret this at the end of the day.

We slithered up the slippery slope to the ridge only to find the wind was worse than the day before and that visibility was still 10 to 20 meters. It took 3 and a half hours for 2 kms, traversing through the tussock on the leeward side and then when that got too bluffy, we had an exciting stagger along the ridge. We made a couple of short but energy sapping errors down wrong spurs off Dundas and Triangle before picking up the start of the bush track down to Avalanche Flats. At 20:30 we arrived at Harris Ck Hut. Should we stop for a comfortable night or risk an uncomfortable night trying to get out on time? The next morning at the dam as we were tossing soggy gear into the car I asked Giorgio what he thought of the trip - "Oh, I thought it was a lovely tour" he replied. A positive attitude like that is a delight to behold – it wasn't the phrase I had in mind.

Giorgio Costa and Brad Owen.

FAMILY DAY TRAMP TO BLUE RANGE HUT - SUNDAY 12th NOVEMBER

Our enthusiastic group of 17 left the Foodtown carpark at 8:01 am on a gloriously fine morning. At 9:30am we headed off from the Kiriwhakapapa Road end - the junior front runners maintaining a good pace, through the bush speckled in sunlight. The leader suggested a rest at 10:30 and everyone enjoyed a 10 minute scroggin stop.

We reached the hut about midday, spending some time at the Rocky Lookout to take in the outstanding view - Peggy's Peak, Mitre, Brockett, Table Ridge, Pukematawai, Bannister, Cattle Ridge and Cattle Ridge Hut - binoculars were very useful. A leisurely lunch was enjoyed and we departed at 1:00pm, reaching the carpark about 3 o'clock which allowed some (brave??) people to test the temperature of the stream. A great day for beginners and everyone else thanks to the fitness of the party and the brilliant weather.

Those participating were:- Chris and Glenice Saunders with Roderick, Fiona and Alasdair; Gavin Rogerson with Matthew and Scot; Cynthia Byrce?, with Sarah, Amy and Melissa, Catherine Simmsen, Alison McColl, Tony Cameron, Monica Cantwell and Maureen Woodruff.
